Chapter1 : The Wishful Bouquet

One sunny morning, a girl named Clara wandered through a meadow filled with colorful flowers. As she twirled among them, she thought, “I wish I could have a bouquet that truly reflects my heart’s desire.” Just then, a shimmering butterfly landed on her shoulder.

“Follow me!” it whispered. Clara followed the butterfly to a hidden glade, where a wise old flower named Flora stood. “I can help you create the perfect bouquet,” Flora said with a gentle smile.

As Clara picked flowers, Flora explained their meanings. “This is a rose, symbolizing love,” she said, handing Clara a velvety red bloom. “And here’s a sunflower, which brings joy and happiness!”

Chapter2 : A Bouquet of Dreams

Clara continued to gather flowers, each one more beautiful than the last. “What about this one?” she asked, holding up a delicate lavender.

“Ah, lavender brings peace and calm,” Flora replied. “It’s perfect for soothing the heart.” Clara smiled, imagining how wonderful her bouquet would be.

As she arranged her flowers, the butterfly fluttered around her. “Your heart’s desire will shine through this bouquet,” it chirped. “Each flower you choose adds its magic to your wish!”

With a final touch, Clara tied the bouquet together. “Thank you, Flora!” she exclaimed, holding her creation close. “I can’t wait to see the magic it brings!”
